

BEDFORD + BOWERY

ART HEARTS

Weekend Art Stops: Everyday Halloween, Crabapple Muses, and One Painting, Deconstructed

SEPTEMBER 6, 2016

BY CASSIDY DAWN GRAVES

(image via yours mine & ours / Facebook)

The Yellow Kiss

Opening Sunday September 11 at yours mine & ours, 6 pm to 8 pm.

Art exhibitions usually contain many pieces of art, or perhaps feature several artists with works on display. This inaugural show at just-opened LES contemporary art gallery yours mine & ours takes a bit more of a minimal approach, showing one painting by artist Nicole Wittenberg. Well, sort of. It's described as a "comprehensive view of a single painting," and the painting in question is based off of an old video still taken from amateur porn. Alongside the painting itself, many drawn studies of the still that led up to the painting's creation will be on display, as well as flashes of her painting process, which includes oils, acrylics, and watercolors. The large-scale painting will be shown on one floor of the gallery, and the process-oriented works on paper will be shown on another, creating a multi-level experience of a multi-step creative journey.