

NEW YORK

To Do: November 29–December 13, 2017

Twenty-five things to see, hear, watch, and read.

Art

7. See Maria Petschnig: Thanks

A sorceress of the first order.

The uncanny alien yearning, daggers in the psychic heart, and loving serenades to outsiders in the strange videos and sculptures of Maria Petschnig suggest she's the art world's Franz Kafka. An extended video interspersed with scenes of people tied up but also of flowers concentrates on anonymous people telling the artist of terrible trauma. —J.S.

yours mine & ours, 54 Eldridge Street, through December 8.